Ninth Shoves Four Men Over Pan Without Hit in Opening Session. Winners Land Two More in the Fourth on Clean Cloating-Langdon Takes Kindly to Whiting's Curves.

Ninth triumphed over Langdon in the Sunday School League yesterday in a game replete with ragged plays and considerable wrangling, the final score being

The first inning was a disastrous one for Langdon, four Ninth men scoring without a hit. Porter, Langdon's twirler, could not locate the plate, and passed three. He then made a mess of Moreland's sacrifice bunt, and Gibson, Brau- Kummer Twirls Gilt-edge Ball in ner, and Cleveland added to the racket by missing easy chances. The game was worth the money up to the sixth, when dilatory tactics on the part of the Ninth players nearly cost them a forfeit. Broome had his mask broken by a pitched ball in this inning, and insisted on holding the game until the protector could be mended, but Umpire Hughes made him don the umpire's but was ordered to the bench, and a moment later put out of the game.

Porter, of Langdon, pitched all kinds of bail, sometimes good and sometimes bad, but he managed to send eleven men to the bench wia the punch-out route. Cleveland, his associate behind the plate, caught splendidly and batted .667, getting a pair of two-baggers in three times up. The Score.

Mr, Town send had closed his residence for the sum mer, while his family was out of town He went to his house yesterday and a quick search revealed that all the spoons knives, and forks, and an entire silver set were gone. He notified the police. Robert E. Volkmer, manager of the National Sporting Goods Company, of 424 Ninth street northwest, was the victim of an old trick yesterday afternoon when he waited for an unknown man who worked his errand boy as an easy mark. The man entered the store and ordered about $25 worth of sporting goods, including a $15 revolver, and said that he would have to go to the War Department in order to get the cash to pay for them. Ar errand boy was sent along to carry the bundles and return with the money. When the War Department was

Police Fail to Obtain Definite Evidence.

Military and police sleuths failed yes terday to throw even a ray of light on the mystery that surrounds the shooting of William L. Smith, a negro, on the Aqueduct Bridge Monday night, supposedly by soldiers from Fort Myer. Detectives Burlingame and Warren, aided by Capt. Newbill, visited Fort Myer and "gum-shoed" without success. They inspected every soldier at the post, and though they questioned a score of men, they came back without a definite clev as to the identity of Smith's assailants. The military authorities believe there is a possibility that militiamen getting ready for the annual encampment at Gettysburg may have fired the shots. They pointed out that no one could tell a regular uniform from the uniform of the National Guard unless they were close Country Boy Taken Care Of enough to see the insignia.

At Georgetown Hospital early this morning it was stated that Smith will probably live.
